Washington, D.C.: PTI Think Tank Convener, Mr. Feroz Khan met with the Pakistan Bank-Fund Staff Association at the World Bank and presented the party's short term and long-term vision on various sectors including education, economy, trade and technology.

Mr. Feroz exchanged views with the World Bank group on how the professional community in the U.S. and, in particular, at the World Bank could engage with Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf in its efforts to ensure introduction of genuine and result-oriented reforms.

The head of PTI Think-Tank delivered a detailed presentation to the World Bank group on the think-tank structure, the research PTI has carried out for various sectors as well as some of the proposed policy recommendations. He also answered several questions put forward by the world bank audience in regards to the policy recommendations process within PTI.

During his trip to Washington, D.C., Mr. Feroz was also shown detailed presentations by Ms. Narjis Ali, Farhan Bhaba and Adam Kamran demonstrating the role of Business Process Reengineering as a central component of e-Government for radically transforming sectors such as trade, procurement, agriculture and provision of government services to all stakeholders and the significance of a universal Ethics Code and Compliance Reporting policy.

Mr. Feroz ensured that PTI would collaborate with and further engage the professional community in the United States to enhance its research initiatives. This was the first of a series of meetings organized by Mr. Narjis Ali and Mr. Anis Dani that the think-tank intends to continue as part of their efforts to engage the professional community in the United States.
